Marketing Interns at Spaces to Go

The founders of the first marketplace for recreational spaces are looking for energetic and detail-oriented marketing interns. These positions will help us generate leads by conducting market research, building out an initial supply of clients, designing and implementing paid search tests, and using analytics to track site performance. Our only qualifications are an attention to detail and a desire to learn. Full time and part time summer positions are available, but applicants will also be considered on a rolling basis.

Spaces to Go is a web platform that gives the public access to sport & recreation spaces available for rental, and allows facility owners to efficiently manage their spaces while generating additional revenue. This is an opportunity to get hands-on experience at an early stage in a high potential startup in an under-served market.

Applicants should send a resume to spacesstogo@gmail.com
